The Inaugural IMIA OSWG Award for 2006 was made to Dr Ignacio Valdes in recognition of his outstanding work in the promotion of free/libre and open source software in health and health informatics, and in particular through his website Linux Medical News. The presentation of the award took place during the AMIA OSWG meeting in Washington DC, USA on November 13, 2006, and was made by Dr Peter Murray, IMIA Vice President for WG and SIG, and past Chair of the IMIA OSWG.
