

CHIRAD.NET launched

Contributed by Peter
Tuesday, 01 May 2007

CHIRAD.NET is the latest online resource to be established by CHIRAD. It is designed to serve as a resource and set of services and tools for CHIRAD Fellows and Members, for collaborative work, and for testing out new tools and applications.

CHIRAD.NET runs on Google Apps for Domains, and we are testing out the various functions, applications, etc. that are included in the package. At present, it is a 'work in progress' and, as with many other CHIRAD activities, 'in perpetual beta'.