This week (14-18 May), CHIRAD members Graham Wright and John Bryant are in Mthatha, South Africa (en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Mthatha) teaching on the MSc in Health Informatics (see www.chirad.org.uk/mthatha.htm and www.wsu.ac.za/news/informatics.htm).

On 15 and 16 May, we will be trying some interesting joint teaching between the students in South Africa and those on the current cohorts in Winchester. More reports on this over the next few days will be posted on the CHIRAD blog - chirad-at.blogspot.com
